

Discrete attributes: a KS pass can hide a total loss of signal (seed 123)

What the KS test reports: every one of these passes

What actually happened: the non-default values are gone

